

We have an opportunity for an Executive Talent Analyst (Asia Pacific) to be a part of our 2018 FastTrack Graduate Program.

You will be a part of a dynamic, high performing team, who work closely to ensure company success and the growth of our brand globally.

Who We Are

NextWave Partners is an Energy & Infrastructure Executive Search Consultancy. We are motivated by a desire to drive our chosen industries forward; with a vision to influence markets rather than simply to service them.

NextWave has a clear strategic plan to become one of the most respected executive search companies in Asia through developing, training and empowering entry-level graduates to become the very best consultants in their industry, also to be market leaders in their specialist areas.

The Role: Executive Talent Analyst

Be part of our 2018 FastTrack Graduate Program where you'll learn from our Business Directors and travel to meet international business clients. This tailored program for fresh graduates is committed to developing the most promising graduates into future strategic business leaders.

The Executive Talent Analyst's Role:

- Grow the NextWave Company brand and establish your own; as a market-leading advisor in your specialist area
- Network of the world's top energy professionals
- Build and maintain a portfolio of revenue generating client accounts and further identify opportunities to develop them internationally
- Through training and mentoring from Senior Management, you will individually grow an enviable client base by tracking energy sector investment in financial markets - consulting in early stage project development/M&A in order to capture and extract maximum value along the project lifecycle
- International travel with face-to-face client meetings to develop deeper relationships with clients and candidates
- Prioritising your tasks whilst working autonomously with confidence

Your Profile:

- Entrepreneurial mind set
- Hardworking and driven to make their mark on their target market
- Motivated to achieve above and beyond the competition in results and earnings
- Confident, humble, resilient and an ability to think outside the box
- Nimble with the ability to spot opportunities and move quickly to capitalise on them
- No recruitment experience required
- A passionate interest in business and people
- "Work hard, play hard" attitude

Application

Please send your CV and cover letter, together with your contact details in PDF or MS Word format to Geraldine Fok at geraldine.fok@next-wavepartners.com

Contact

Phone: +65 6914 9938

Email: info@next-wavepartners.com

LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/company/nextwave-partners/>