Executive Summary

NSW Ambulance is one of the largest and most modern ambulance services in the world and is recognised as a global leader in its field. It is a division of NSW Health and provides emergency and non-emergency clinical care, retrieval and specialist patient transport services to a population of over 7 million, delivered by its 4,500 staff through 300 locations across metropolitan and regional NSW. Through its fleet of 1,500 road based vehicles, helicopter operations, fixed wing aircraft, off-road vehicles, snowmobiles and other bespoke rescue options, NSW Ambulance provides comprehensive rapid response services across a diverse range of scenarios and geographical locations. It is a highly complex, geographically distributed organisation with significant multi-stakeholder involvement across its operations, both centrally and locally. The workforce is highly committed, valued and respected and underpins the success of the organisation.

The Director Information and Digital Services reports to the Executive Director Finance and Corporate Services, and leads a small direct and much larger matrix structured team. In this intellectually challenging role, this person will:

- Lead the NSW Ambulance delivery model for ICT services which includes delivering secure, scalable and robust digital / ICT systems, platforms and services;
- Work closely with eHealth NSW, the technology partner of NSW Ministry of Health which provides statewide leadership on the shape, delivery and management of ICT-led healthcare.
- Implement the joint ICT strategy as agreed by NSW Ambulance and eHealth NSW to support safe, efficient and connected health care to the people of NSW;
- Advise the executive leadership team on ICT matters and the strategic direction of ICT and eHealth initiatives;
- Build strong relationships across a variety of key stakeholders including eHealth NSW (as principal service provider), NSW Ministry of Health, local health districts, associated agencies and a range of ICT industry partners;
- Develop long term strategies and programs to improve the operational efficiency of ICT, through the adoption of global best practice methodologies;
- Foster a responsive, future focused and contemporary culture which supports staff to deliver true excellence in patient care.

We are seeking a contemporary technology leader and outstanding relationship manager with significant experience managing ICT strategies within large, complex organisations which have a strong customer service focus. The successful candidate will possess impressive credentials managing complex stakeholders including outsourced ICT partners and vendors. This experience may have been gained within a government or public sector agency; alternatively, we will consider private sector experience in which case recent experience of interfacing with government stakeholders or partners in some capacity is essential. Critical to the person's success will be their ability to lead, motivate and inspire their teams to be the very best, within a highly challenging and demanding environment.

About NSW Ambulance

NSW Ambulance operates to an annual expenditure budget of $890m. It is a highly complex, geographically dispersed organisation with significant multi-stakeholder involvement across the organisation, both centrally and locally. Led by Chief Executive Dr Dominic Morgan ASM, the NSW Ambulance is a division of NSW Ministry of Health and their State Headquarters is based in Rozelle, Sydney.

The vision of NSW Ambulance is “Excellence in Care”. The Chief Executive has an Executive Leadership team of six, comprised of: Clinical Operations; Aeromedical Operations; Clinical Systems Integration; Finance & Corporate Services, Engagement and Corporate Governance, People & Culture.

In 2018 / 2019, NSW Ambulance undertook 1,130,897 total responses (both emergency and non-emergency) compared to 1,115,635 total responses in 2015 / 2016. There were on average 3,048 responses per day - this is equivalent to a response every 28 seconds.

90 per cent of the 4,500 staff are operational and involved in the frontline delivery of services. This includes paramedics and specialised areas such as intensive care and extended care paramedics, special operations, counter disaster, aeromedical and medical retrieval. The remaining 10 per cent of the workforce are corporate and support staff who assist in the delivery of services, including mechanical workshops, finance and payroll, human resources and administration.

Agency overview

NSW Ambulance operates a mobile health service for the community of NSW providing emergency and non-emergency health care, retrieval and specialist transport services; major event planning and response; and community education. It is one of the largest Ambulance services in the world servicing a population in excess of 7 million, employing approximately 4,500 people and about 250 volunteers at more than 300 locations across NSW, operating a fleet of more than 1500 Ambulance and other vehicles, with an annual expenditure budget in excess of $890 million.

NSW Ambulance is a division of the NSW Ministry of Health. The Health Services Act (1997) and Part 4 Health Services Regulation 2013 is the legislative framework under which NSW Ambulance functions. The organisation is managed from State Headquarters located at Rozelle.

The vision of NSW Ambulance is "excellence in care". NSW Ambulance recognises that quality of service, equity, meeting community needs, investing in our people and organisational performance will be the basis for the development of NSW Ambulance's future. These concepts are represented in the principles of "Patient Centred and Staff Focused" and are underpinned by NSW Health's core values of Collaboration, Openness, Respect and Empowerment. Key objectives of the organisation are contained within NSW Ambulance's Strategic Plan.

Primary purpose of the role

The Director, Information and Digital Services, is responsible for leading and managing the NSW Ambulance delivery model for Information Communication Technology (ICT) services in partnership with eHealth NSW. Primary purpose of the role is to ensure that NSW Ambulance has highly available, secure, scalable and robust digital / ICT systems, platforms and services. The role ensures that effective ICT governance is in place within NSW Ambulance and that a healthy ICT service partnership is maintained between NSW Ambulance and eHealth NSW.

Key accountabilities

- Implement the joint strategy and priorities for ICT as set by the NSW Ambulance Executive Leadership Team and implement the enterprise architecture and standards as set by the Chief Executive, eHealth NSW to support the safe, effective, efficient and connected health care to the people of NSW through innovative solutions that are consistent with emerging digital and ICT best practice and are aligned with the eHealth Strategy for NSW Health.
- Develop, lead and implement the NSW Ambulance ICT management plans to successfully deliver ICT governance, service performance, program and project delivery, ICT architecture and vendor management through an effective service partnership with eHealth NSW.
- Provide accurate and timely advice to the Executive Director, Finance Performance and Assets, on ICT matters and the strategic direction of ICT and eHealth NSW initiatives; providing regular reporting on the progress of ICT workstreams.
- Build and maintain an effective relationship with eHealth NSW and monitor performance against agreed levels of performance (OLA's).
- Build and maintain effective, influential, working relationships within NSW Ambulance, eHealth NSW and across the NSW health system and associated agencies, as well as ICT industry partners relevant to NSW Ambulance to facilitate information flow and the achievement of strategic objectives.
- Effectively and proactively manage operational issues to ensure compliance with relevant policies, procedures, legislation and regulations; particularly in the areas of finance, governance, program management, risk management, information and cyber security, procurement, safety, and employee and contractor management.
- Drive the ongoing analysis and review of ICT service delivery to identify opportunities to improve and enhance the services for NSW Ambulance, and ensure the development of KPIs that support the measured provision of services and other strategic ICT matters for reporting to the Executive Director, Finance Performance and Assets.
- Ensure a positive workplace culture where bullying, harassment and inappropriate workplace behaviours are not tolerated. Collaborate with managers and staff to develop initiatives, policies and procedures to support NSW Ambulance objectives.

Key challenges

- Ensuring NSW Ambulance remains informed of the Ministry of Health and eHealth NSW ICT strategies and priorities; and that the NSW Ambulance priorities are programmed to meet these requirements.
- Managing NSW Ambulance ICT through a customer perspective while managing and developing the partnership with eHealth NSW as the provider of our core ICT services.
- Managing the complexity of ICT services to support NSW Ambulance strategic and operational needs within budget.

Role Dimensions

Decision making

The Director, Information and Digital Services, has the responsibility for the decisions relating to the provision of ICT services to achieve agreed program objectives and service performance, the management of the service partnership with eHealth NSW, and operational and capital budget management and reporting in accordance with policies, guidelines and delegations.

The role provides the highest level of expert and professional management and advice on ICT issues and is individually responsible for the validity and quality of this advice.

The Director is responsible for setting and executing the future strategy of NSW Ambulance ICT, through consultation with the Ambulance NSW business and in close collaboration with eHealth NSW. The role is at times required to address new challenges and issues, given the size and complexity of the health services ICT systems.

NSW Ambulance has a statewide significance and is a complex organisation providing services that are often high profile and/or politically sensitive, with a high level of community expectation in service delivery. The role is expected to exercise sound judgement and capacity for independent decision making on complex and sensitive matters.
