

en world Japan changed the logos for Contract Professionals and en world Executive Search en world Japan K.K. (headquarters: Chuo City, Tokyo, president: Vijay Deol), one of Japan's largest recruiting firms specializing in global talent, announces that the logos for Contract Professionals, a service that focuses on the professional dispatch business and the recruitment of fixed-term workers, and en world Executive Search, a service that specializes in executive recruitment, have changed.

EXECUTIVE SEARCH

en world Japan launched Contract Professionals in 2006 as a second service following the main business of global talent recruiting for permanent positions. Fifteen years since its launch, we decided to use the same logo for all services for consistency as en world Japan brands by using the blue "en" that represents the essence of the group. At the same time, the logo for en world Executive Search has changed to match the other service logos.

The number of en world Japan's service brands increased to four, and the number of registered users and companies has been increasing in every service each year. en world Japan will strive to empower global talent and companies to succeed so that we achieve our mission of enabling success as a member of the en Group.
